

Globe Review

TELEVISION: GIRLS GONE GOOD

It's all enough to make you drink your Top 10 cocktails

JOHN DOYLE
JDOYLE@GLOBEANDMAIL.COM
MAY 27, 2008

Okay. Let's talk Top 10s.

My Top 10 TV moments of 2008 (so far) would have to include the opening credits of MVP; Jack Bauer appearing on Corner Gas; and a Fox News reporter feigning satisfaction when eating a "dirt pie," a mud patty made of dirt, oil and sugar that the poor eat in Haiti. I would have to ruminate on the necessity of including that moment when a Chelsea fella fell over trying to take a penalty kick in the Champions League final, one of the most-watched sporting events on TV. Excellent comedy, that was ...